

An aerial photograph of a sprawling urban landscape, likely Bogotá, Colombia. The foreground and middle ground are filled with a dense cluster of multi-story apartment buildings, many of which have a distinctive orange or terracotta facade. The buildings are packed closely together, with some taller structures standing out. In the background, the city gives way to rolling green hills and mountains under a bright blue sky with scattered white clouds. The overall scene conveys a sense of a vibrant, densely populated city nestled in a mountainous region.

PLANTAS

The image shows a modern interior space, likely a living room or a lounge area, with a curved brick wall and large glass windows. The room is furnished with contemporary furniture, including a sofa, armchairs, and a small table. A large indoor plant is visible in the foreground, and another potted plant is placed near the brick wall. The overall aesthetic is clean and minimalist, with a focus on natural light and indoor greenery. The word "PLANTAS" is overlaid in the center of the image.
